

MEXICAN DELEGATION RECEIVED BY HARDING AT TOWN ON BORDER

No Expression As To Attitude Toward Mexico
Given Out.

PARTY DUCK HUNTING

President-elect Driven From Golf Course Because of Weather

Point Isabel, Texas, Nov. 12.—A Texas "norther" blew the vacation plans of President-elect Harding ashore today. The 35-mile gale which blew in from Laguna Madre ruined tarpon fishing for the president-elect and made his thoughts turn to his old sport, golf. A fine mist, known as illuvia temporaria by the Mexican fishermen here, has accompanied the "norther" and may even interfere with the senator's golf.

Meanwhile Mexican leaders along the border were gratified today by the fact that Senator Harding had received Consul Vasquez and a delegation of Matamoros business men and while the president-elect was exceedingly careful to say nothing concerning recognition of Mexico by the United States, the Mexican leaders feel certain that he holds a friendly feeling towards their government. The Mexican delegation invited Senator Harding to visit Matamoros but he declined, promising however, that he would visit the quaint old Mexican city in his official capacity if he comes to Texas after his inauguration.

The president-elect also congratulated the delegation on the good feeling that exists between the Mexican city and the American city of Brownsville and declared that this same feeling should exist between the two nations. Senator Harding invited the Mexican leaders to call upon him in Washington.

Was Surprised.

Although the president-elect was somewhat surprised by the call of the delegation he received them graciously, but was studious in his efforts to avoid any remarks which might be construed as interfering in the diplomatic situation. However, Mexican leaders were encouraged by the friendly spirit which the next president of the United States displayed. Border gossip has it that the present Mexican regime is very much interested in the attitude of the president-elect for there are rumors coming across the border that the Obregon government may have some political difficulties during the early days of its administration. It is certain that Mexican leaders have been anxious to secure some expression from President-elect Harding as to his Mexican attitude, but he has indicated that he will have nothing to say on this matter until he is in office.

Strict enforcement of the law has been ordered in Matamoros and the lid has been clamped down tight since the Harding party arrived across the border. Mexican newspapers have informed the citizens that the city will be under inspection of distinguished Americans and in arranging for a dinner for the newspapermen cautious inquiry was made whether there would be offense if light wines were served in the Mexican city.

Many members of the Harding party were duck hunting today, but the weather being such that sport, but the president-elect does not care for that sport and elected to take the little green cottage on the wave driven promontory, awaiting favorable weather for golf. Mrs. Harding also remained at Point Isabel.

ONLY HOMES WILL BE SUPPLIED WITH GAS IN COLUMBUS

Drastic Action Taken By Companies In Cold Spell.

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—In an effort to afford as much heat as possible in homes here, the local gas companies have cut off their supply from theaters, office buildings and other industrial consumers.

Orders have been sent by the companies to all industrial consumers informing them that the stoppage of gas consumption is to date from today. Enforcement of these orders cuts off the gas supply from all places except homes, hospitals and plants making food products.

Gas company officials, however, stated that, in all probability, the gas supply here will be insufficient in homes, despite this drastic action, if the mercury falls much lower.

BELIEVE NAVAL AVIATORS ARE LAKE VICTIMS

Three Airmen Missing Since
Wednesday From Station.

STORMS ARE VIOLENT

Rescue Ships Driven Into
Port By Lake
Storms.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Belief that three naval aviators in an aeroplane which has been missing since Wednesday from the Great Lakes Naval training station have perished was growing today as searchers failed to obtain any definite trace of the men or the plane. Storms that have repeatedly driven back rescue ships are declared by experienced Lake Michigan seamen to be more violent than any seaplane could ride through with safety. The missing aviators are Ensign Edwin M. Clarke of Peoria, Ill., machinist, Harry C. Barr, Lake Forest, Ill.; and Chief Printer, Frank J. Caesar, of Hollywood, Ills.

The plane in which they left Great Lakes station Wednesday reported to have been sighted near Manitowish, Wis., yesterday afternoon. Rescue ships that put out, however, have been driven back into port, damaged and covered with ice.

Commander Wilson and other officers of the Great Lakes Station have not given up hope. They say that the aviators may have volplaned to some isolated point on the Wisconsin coast, or may have been carried by the wind over to the Michigan shore of the lake.

The revenue cutter Tuscarora and a sub-chaser from Sault Ste. Marie are continuing the search today. If weather conditions permit a fleet of aeroplanes will be sent out this morning from the great lakes station.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS IN CONGRESS READY TO STEP DOWNWARD

Will Await Development of the Republican
Plans

Washington, Nov. 12.—Congressional Democratic leaders are disposed "to take the count" following their defeat in the elections and await development of Republican plans and policies before determining their scheme of opposition and reorganization.

Congressman Claude Kitchin, of North Carolina who will be the house Democratic leader in the new congress, favors this plan.

"We cannot re-organize," he said "on the Bryan scheme of giving to the foreign countries the ten billions they have borrowed from us and adding that to the tax burdens of our people. Neither can we reorganize on the Governor Cox plan of repealing the excess profits taxation and substituting for it a general sales tax to raise over a billion dollars from the people."

"I think it better that these so-called meetings to consider plans for reorganization now being held, should be postponed for four months. We could see by that time what the Republicans are going to do with the great problems that confront them and what is to be their policy."

GIANT STILL IS FOUND ON FARM

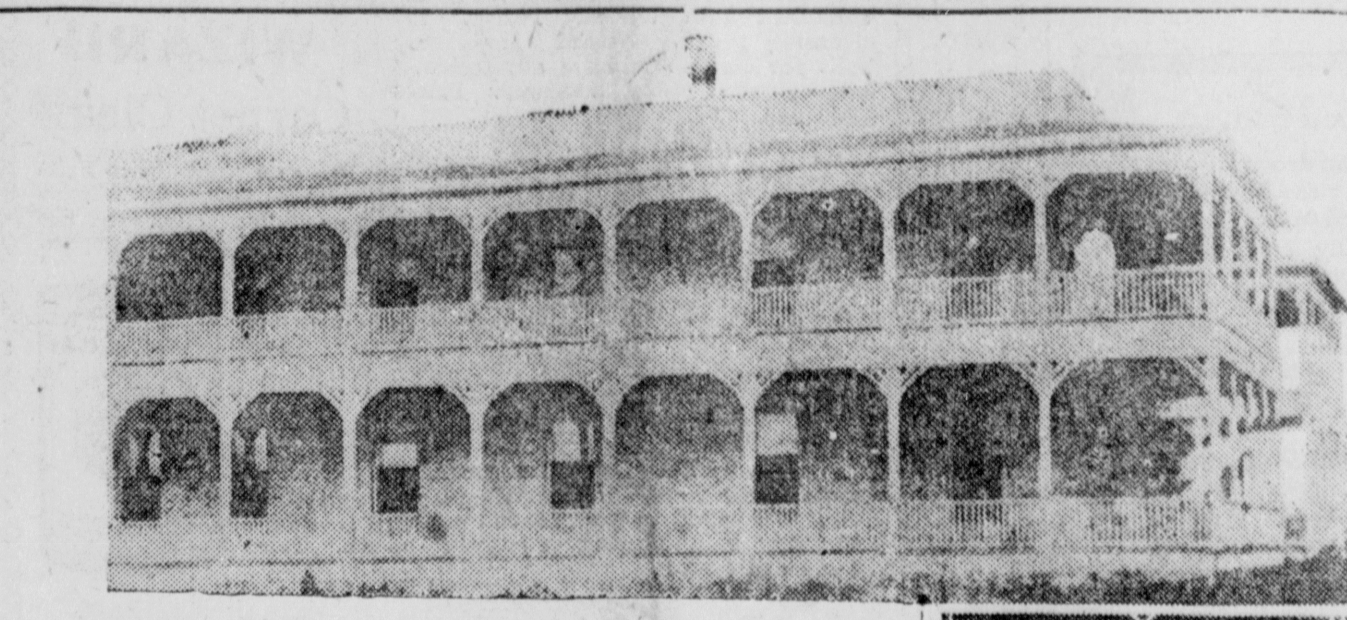

Dayton, O., Nov. 12.—Wesley Fink, large land owner and father of eight children, five of whom appeared in federal court with him this morning, was fined $100 and costs and given six months in the workhouse by U. S. Judge Sater. Revenue officers say he had one of the largest stills in the community on his farm, near West Alexandria, Ohio.

INVESTIGATION INTO WALL STREET BLAST BEGINS ANEW FOLLOWING DISCLOSURES

Sensational Story Published In New York Paper Causes
Police To Reveal Some Disclosures—Driver Of Wagon Said To Be Captured.

New York, Nov. 12.—Investigation into the shocking Wall street explosion, which cost more than 30 lives and a property damage of millions, was again in full swing today as a result of disclosures and allegation by newspapers and other sources.

Following the sensational story advanced by the Evening World that the explosion was a direct result of a war between rival labor unions, the police revealed that some progress has been made in their investigation of weeks.

The driver of the wagon which contained the huge dynamite bomb has been found, the police said, although they declined to make known his identity or any other details. The blacksmith who shod the "mystery horse," also is known to them, the police said.

According to the Evening World, the explosion was caused by a war between House wreckers Union No. 95, headed by William Zaranko, and other building trades organizations, headed by Robert P. Brindell New York's "labor czar."

HOME BREW STILL UNMENACED SAYS REVENUE BUREAU

Ruling Restricting Sale Of Malt and Hops Not Enforced.

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—Sale of malt extract and hops for use in making beverages in the home is illegal, according to a communication received by State Prohibition Director Shearer from John F. Kramer, national Prohibition Director, Washington, D. C.

Kramer's communication constitutes a copy of a letter he wrote to the Manhattan Importing Company, 1105 Walnut Avenue, Cleveland.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Home brew is still unmenaced by a ruling restricting the sale of hops and malt only to bakers and confectioners, it was announced at the bureau of internal revenue today. Such restrictions have not progressed beyond the stage of office memoranda concerning the possible legality of such restrictions, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Williams, who would have to pass upon such a departmental order, stated today he had not been consulted.

"No ruling prohibiting the sale of malt extract, hops or compounds used in home beer making has been made by the Internal revenue bureau," Commissioner Williams said. "This matter has been under discussion but no action has been taken. The matter has not reached me for decision and in view of the conflicting legal opinions, it is entirely futile to speculate on what final disposition will be made of the matter."

It was learned at the bureau that the office memoranda and discussion grew out of protests made by cereal beverage manufacturers who desire to put the lid on home brewing which it is said, is seriously threatening their trade.

BANDITS ROB BANK GETTING $4,000

Chillicothe, O., Nov. 12.—Four bandits entered the quiet little village of Kingston, just north of here this morning, and at the point of their revolver, held up Floyd Hickie, teller of the Kingston bank, and his assistant, Miss Pauline Holdren and Beatrice Krafthefer, and made away with $4,000 cash and a large quantity of stocks and bonds, estimated to be worth several thousands of dollars.

The scream of the burglar siren brought hundreds of villagers and the marshal, J. T. Evans.

Spying the marshal peering in at the door, the bandits opened fire, the bullets crashing into a pool room across the street. A bandit waiting at the machine, fired shots up and down the main street, causing the villagers to seek shelter.

Leaping into a big closed machine the bandits sped south. The County is being scoured by the sheriff, his deputies, local police and military police from Camp Sherman.

TWELVE PASSENGERS INJURED IN WRECK

Grand Junction, Colo., Nov. 12.—Wrecking crews had repaired the track and traffic was resumed early today on the Denver and Rio Grande railway following the derailment of a train miles east of here of passenger train No. 15, westbound late yesterday, which resulted in the baggage car and two day coaches overturning. Twelve passengers were injured, none seriously. The cause of the accident has not been determined.

Among those hurt were A. P. Cooper, Topeka, Kas.; G. E. Horst, Shelbyville, Ind.; and C. A. Wise, Brooklyn, N. Y.

They were brought here for treatment.

IRISH PROBLEM STILL UNSOLVED IS BELIEF

Home Rule Bill Passed By House Of Commons Will Not Bring Peace It Is Declared—Lloyd George Makes Plea.

London, Nov. 12.—Many newspapers united in the opinion that the Irish home rule bill which was passed by the house of commons last night will not bring peace to Ireland.

"Premier Lloyd George dissembles his love with such notorious persistency that his professions of good will carry no more weight than a Russian rouble, and now he offers a piece of legislation (the home rule bill) which is impudent in its futility," said the Daily News, a newspaper owned by Lord Northcliffe.

Premier Lloyd George made an impassioned plea in the house of commons just before the final vote was taken on the home rule bill.

"I implore Ireland to remain within the empire which she has helped to build and adorn," said the premier. The premier outlined three "immovable conditions" of the government:

- 1.—That Ireland should not become an independent state;
- 2.—That Ireland should not weaken the strategy of defense of the United Kingdom by depriving the English government of complete control of the Irish harbors;

- 3.—That South and Central Ireland should not coerce Ulster (the anti-home rule district).

The chief features of the new home rule law, which supplants the home rule bill passed at the outbreak of the war, follow:

Two legislatures shall be established, one for north Ireland, the other for south Ireland; the people of the six Ulster counties shall not be brought administratively under an outside parliament in Ireland.

U. S. SHIPPING BOARD SOON TO BE OVERHAULED

Lax Business Methods
Given as Reason For New Step
GRAFT POSSIBLE

Probe Reveals Sufficient
Testimony To Warrant Change.

New York, Nov. 12.—Fresh revelations of attempts to cheat the U. S. Shipping Board out of huge sums by padded contracts were made at today's hearings of the congressional investigation committee. John T. Meehan, chief deputy investigator for the board told on the witness stand how a contract involving millions of dollars for surplus lumber, with heavy loss to the government was almost "put over."

By the use of a dictaphone, Meehan said his investigators ascertained that a bid for 139,000,000 feet of lumber by the Chicago House wrecking Company, owned by Harris Brothers Corp. ostensibly $3,900,000 actually was for only $2,400,000.

New York Nov. 12. — Sufficient testimony of lax business methods, leaving loopholes for graft and inefficiency in the conduct of the American government built merchant marine, has been adduced to show the need of overhauling the shipping board, it was declared by the congressional probers before resuming their investigation today.

Unless a system of bookkeeping is installed to permit a daily balance of books it will be impossible to know what ships are making or losing money, it was declared; unless there is a purchasing agent for all government owned ships, there was a likelihood of graft in supplying vessels for voyages; unless shipping companies are prevented from giving preference to their own ships over vessels leased from the government, the government vessels will be handicapped in showing a profit or in building up trade routes; and unless there is greater coordination and a better personnel in direction of shipping board departments, the present conditions, described by Commander Abner B. Clements, assistant to Chairman Admiral Benson of the Shipping board, as chaotic, will not be remedied the probers declared.

LID TO BE CLOSED DOWN ON SUNDAY IN PORTSMOUTH

Portsmouth, Nov. 12.—The lid will be clamped down on the city of Portsmouth Sunday as the result of an order issued by Mayor Gableman, closing every place of business involving human labor. The order came as the result of activities of the Law Enforcement League to suppress vice in what has been charged to be a "wide open" city.

As the result of the order not a soft drink parlor, news stand, gasoline station or garage will be open in Portsmouth Sunday. Moving picture theaters have been closed for months. Taxicabs, street cars and newspapers, are exempted from the order, which will close this city as tight as a drum.

Is It Yours

This is the Birthday of
ELIZABETH CADY STANTON

November 12, 1815.

One of the most prominent workers for the three great reform movements of the last century—abolition, prohibition and suffrage—was Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

She was born in Johnstown, New York, in 1815, graduated from a "Female Seminary" when 17, and when 25 married Henry Stanton, lawyer, journalist and a prominent abolitionist. He was also one of the founders of the Republican party in New York.

He took her on a wedding journey to London, where he was to attend the world's Anti-Slavery Convention. Already Mrs. Stanton was growing interested in these new movements and this London trip had an important effect upon her later work. For she met there Lucretia Mott, who won her more firmly to the cause of woman suffrage.

Some years later Mrs. Stanton called the first Woman's Rights Convention, at Seneca Falls, New York, her home. And by circulating petitions, she had the New York legislature pass a law giving married women property rights. She often addressed the legislature herself, for woman's rights and for drunkenness as a cause for divorce.

She worked with Lucretia Mott, with Susan B. Anthony and with others who have become immortal in the eyes of women who wanted equal voting privileges. She edited several papers devoted to suffrage and in connection with Susan B. Anthony wrote a History of Woman Suffrage. She died in 1902.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any druggist a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. ARMISTICE DAY DANCE AT ELKS POPULAR

About fifty couples attended the Armistice Day dance given by the local Order of Elks at their home, Thursday evening. The Elks' colors, purple and white, were used about the rooms of the lodge. Shepherd's orchestra furnished the dancers with the best brand of music, and a punch bowl offered further good cheer. Cards were enjoyed by a number of the guests.

The committee for the affair consisted of C. H. Minor, Oscar Werber, William Smith, Fred Flynn, J. E. Kohl and Harry Spahr.

VICTORY TO PRESENT ATTRACTIVE SHOW

One of the many odd features of "Good Morning, Judge" which is scheduled for presentation at the Victory Theater Dayton, for three nights only, commencing Sunday, Nov. 14 is found in the fact that its original production in farce comedy form changed the history of the English speaking stage. It was written by an obscure English actor, A. W. Pinero and played under the name of "The Magistrate." Its success was so pronounced that it was soon played wherever the English language is spoken, a new school of dramatic writing sprang into being. Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, as the author is now known is deriving handsome royalties today, from the musical comedy version of "The Magistrate" now played as "Good Morning, Judge." They Camp will be seen in the role of the heavy weight judge, supported by a distinguished cast of metropolitan musical comedy favorites.

CHATTER

Harold Lloyd seldom fails to find an interesting yarn among the army of "extras" that surround him at the big studio. "At all man of mine is the limit," a colored mammy told him.

"First he takes a razor whack at mah sister, then he throws me over the fence an' dusts off leavin' me an' the two babies flat." "Why don't you get a divorce?" asked Harold in all seriousness. "At what Ah'm aimin' to do," was the answer, "as quick as Ah can find some grounds fo' action."

The fussy new colonel had summoned his adjutant to him after the regiment had painstakingly gone through the intricacies of a formal guard mount. "Captain," he began pompously, "I was not at all pleased with guard mount this morning." "Why, sir—" began the surprised adjutant, who had thought the movement exceptionally well executed. "That will be all, captain. As I said, I was not at all pleased. As you know, there must be uniformity in an army to differentiate it from a mob. This morning there was a noticeable lack of uniformity, especially in the band."

"You will immediately inform the band leader, captain, that he will instruct the trombone players to work the slides of their instruments back and forth in unison. Sir, I will have uniformity in my regiment."

They stood in the London zoological gardens puzzled before a bird. "It's a heagle," said one. "It's not; it's a howl," said the other. They appealed to a bystander. "Both wrong," he said. "It's an awk."

PHYTHAN SISTERS MEET

Dover, Ohio, November 11.—Five hundred delegates from 14 counties in the Fourteenth district of the Grand Temple of Physician Sisters attended the annual convention here.

DR. E. A. PETERSON TO APPEAR HERE ON RED CROSS DAY

Sunday, November 14th, has been set aside as Red Cross Sunday, in the churches. Dr. Erwin A. Peterson, former Xenian, a prominent official in Red Cross circles, will speak Sunday evening at the First M. E. Church, in the interests of the Fourth Roll Call of the Red Cross.

Dr. Peterson was recently appointed National Headquarters director of Health Service of the American Red Cross. This appointment followed shortly after his return from Italy where he served with the American Red Cross Commission for Tuberculosis. Later as head of the section of school hygiene he organized and promoted in Italy, a national association for school hygiene.

Dr. Peterson, who was a former resident of this city, won his medical degree at Western Reserve University and has been a lecturer on medical inspection, physical education and recreation at the University of Wisconsin, the Ohio State University and the Cleveland School of Education. For several years he was director of medical inspection and physical education of the Cleveland Board of Education, personally directing a staff of school directors and nurses in the medical inspection of approximately 100,000 children.

On Sunday morning, Dr. Peterson will make an address at Yellow Springs in the Presbyterian Church and in the afternoon, he will make an address in Cedarville.

Dr. Peterson's address in this city will be at 7 o'clock Sunday evening and his topic will be "The Opportunities Afforded by the Red Cross of Peace." The Xenia churches will hold a union meeting to hear Dr. Peterson's address and Red Cross Sunday will be further advanced in Xenia Churches.

LACK OF INTEREST IN JUDICIAL RACE SHOWN BY VOTES

One out of every six voters in Greene County did not cast a rap who was elected as Common Pleas Judge in Greene County.

This statement is proven by election figures in the hands of P. H. Cresswell, clerk of the county board of elections, who says that 2,292 voters in this county failed to cast their vote for either Judge C. H. Kyle or Judge-elect R. L. Gowdy.

These 2,292 voters either ignored the ballot altogether or in attempting to mark the candidate of their choice, mutilated the ballot so that it was thrown out. According to the final compilation of the board, there were 13,535 ballots issued to voters at the election by clerks and judges in the 32 precincts.

Of this number 752 voters failed to vote for either Davis or Donahay for Governor, while 969 failed to vote for either Harding or Cox. The figures are proof that there was a lack of interest in the campaign, especially in the local judgeship fight, although some of the votes may have been lost through new voters making mistakes in marking their tickets.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ANSWERS TWO CALLS

The fire department was called about 1:45 Friday afternoon to the George Birch home on North King street, where the roof in the rear of the home caught fire from a defective flue. Chemicals were used by the department to extinguish the blaze, which caught in the attic.

Another fire was caused about 2 o'clock at the William Hallissy home on North Galloway street, by a defective flue, and a number of holes were burned in the roof. Both fires caused small damage.

BEAUTY CHATS

When I see girls of 15 and 16—and sometimes younger—going along the streets wearing veils, I always want to go to them and protest. Veils are the property of the mature woman, and not always even hers. Many women are far too lovely to hide their beauty behind the sheerest silken veils.

If you like veils, find out before you wear them whether they are becoming to you or not. They're not, you know, to lots of women. They give a delightful sense of mystery, they almost hide, while yet revealing every detail of a woman's face. And if a woman wishes to shut herself away from the world, a wee bit, by putting a veil between it and herself, of course that's her privilege.

But such is the complication of the feminine temperament that I doubt whether any woman yet wore a veil to hide herself from the public gaze—except those in deepest mourning.

BOY IS STRUCK BY AUTO TRUCK

Howard North, small son of Mrs. Harry North was slightly injured when he was struck by an H. E. Schmidt and Co., delivery truck driven by Simeon Gillman, on West Main Street in front of the Galloway and Cherry furniture store Thursday evening.

The boy was taken to the office of Dr. Galloway where it was found his injuries were confined to a painful bump on the head and scratches about the face and head. The truck driver said the boy ran directly in the path of the machine, and that he stopped as soon as he could, although it was impossible to avoid striking the boy. Boys in the neighborhood at the time claimed that the truck was driving east on the north side of Main street, the wrong side of the street.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES FILED BY CANDIDATES FOR LOCAL OFFICES

R. L. Gowdy, Common Pleas Judge-elect, spent $481.24 during his campaign for that office, according to his statement of expenses filed with the board of elections.

Judge C. H. Kyle, his opponent for that office spent a total of $172.27, according to his campaign expenditure report. W. J. Davis, candidate for County Surveyor spent $25 during his campaign. Harvey Elam, Clerk of Courts elect, spent $20, B. F. Thomas, County Recorder spent $15 and M. A. Broadstone spent $25.

The statement of Erskine M. Winters, treasurer of the Greene County Executive Committee shows that the receipts of that organization were $1,330.20 and the expenditures $1,314.17. Of the receipts $600 were received from the State Executive Committee. The Yellow Springs Republican Club spent a total of $50.

G. N. Perill, candidate for County Commissioner, J. Carl Marshall, for Probate Judge, J. Kenneth Williamson for Prosecuting Attorney, John H. McVay for county treasurer, E. Dawson Smith for prosecuting attorney spent nothing in the campaign according to their statements filed.

All of the candidates have not yet filed their expense accounts as yet, but the statements are coming in every day.

DISPLAY PIPE TAKEN FROM GROUND AFTER 33 YEARS' SERVICE

Adding to the display of water pipes attacked by electrolysis from the lines of the traction company in the window of the Xenia Shoe & Rubber Store on South Detroit street, City Manager Kenyon Riddle has placed a bit of water pipe with an interesting history.

The piece of pipe is a cast iron section taken from the ground when workmen made the connection of the new force main from the new pumping station to the old force main on the Springfield Pike. Although it has been in the ground for 33 years, the pipe appears to be almost as good as new even on the inside, where the water has had no bad effect on the metal.

The piece of pipe has seen 33 years of service. For nine years, before the Cincinnati Pike pumping station was built all of the water furnished the city came from the Springfield Pike station, and it is estimated that about 400,000 gallons a day passed through the section of pipe. Since then the Springfield Pike station has furnished more than half of the water supply and so it is estimated that an average of about 800,000 gallons of water a day passed through the pipe during its 33 years of service. In 33 years this amounts to three billions, 500 million gallons of water.

There is also an exhibition in the window of the sand used in the filtration plant at the new water pumping station. The water is first subjected to treatment which removed the iron, and then passed through 28 inches of this sand, which comes from Cavanaugh, Ill. It then passed through 14 inches of scientifically graded gravel, from which it is picked up and distributed.

YALE AND PRINCETON GRAPPLE SATURDAY

New York, Nov. 12.—The tenacity of the bulldog will be pitted against what is admittedly a superior football team when Princeton and Yale clash tomorrow afternoon in Palmer stadium, Princeton, N. J.

Betting odds have followed the performances of the Princeton team this year. Yale gave West Virginia University a sound drubbing while Princeton had plenty of trouble subduing the mountaineers. Still Yale lost a game to Boston college, which preponderance of betting opinion indicates, proves that Yale is not so strong as Princeton. The fact however, that Princeton year in and year out prepares for both Yale and Harvard by perfecting a defensive machine rather than one of offense has made better a little timid, so the best any one had to say of the Tigers was 3 to 2 and Yale money was in evidence.

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATED AT MCKINLEY SCHOOL

A short but impressive exercise was held by the pupils of McKinley school on Thursday afternoon, in commemoration of Armistice Day.

The body of children, numbering more than 200 marched into the large hall of the building, and as the clock struck eleven, the assembly as a boy turned and faced east, standing at attention for one minute. Following this Miss Finney, an instructor at the school recited the poem "In Flanders Fields."

The recitation was followed by the Star Spangled Banner, being sung by the school.

BRIEF SKETCH OF THE COMING "FIRST LADY OF THE LAND."

From the Washington Star.

Mrs. Warren G. Harding, who will become the "first lady of the land," is no stranger to Washington. While she made no attempt to figure as a social leader in the capital during the five years that she and Senator Harding have lived here since his election to the senate, she has been known as a gracious hostess in her own home and she has been well liked.

Before she married Senator Harding, Mrs. Harding was Mrs. Henry De Wolfe, and before that Miss Florence Kling. Her father the late Amos Kling, was one of the leading citizens of Marion, Ohio. He was reputed to be worth several hundred thousand dollars, perhaps a millionaire. Her first marriage, to Henry De Wolfe of Marion, did not prove happy. She divorced De Wolfe, who has been dead for many years. Their son, too, is dead. Mrs. Harding, however, has a grandson.

Amos Kling was strongly opposed to the marriage of his daughter to Mr. Harding, then a struggling young editor. He refused his assent, and for years after the wedding withheld his approval. Eventually, however, he became reconciled to the match. Mr. Kling was a strong-willed man, and his word had been law within his household. He was astonished when his daughter refused to be guided by him and give up Mr. Harding.

Mrs. Harding, as a girl, spent a great deal of her time with her father. Her mother was more or less of an invalid, and the running of the household fell more and more upon the daughter's shoulders.

She inherited and developed from her association with her hard-headed father a keen business sense, which she used to help her husband build up the Marion Star into a prosperous newspaper. At one time Mrs. Harding acted as circulation manager for the paper, and mothered the club established for the newsboys. She even spanked the boys when it was necessary. The future "first lady of the land" is essentially a home body. She is fond of her home, and has proved a successful home maker. She is a good housekeeper.

The Harding home in Marion, where the senator conducted his "front porch" campaign, is the same home in which he and Mrs. Harding were married a little more than nineteen years ago. They celebrated their anniversary in Marion last July, after their return from Washington and Chicago. The house has been "done over" and improved, but it is the same in which they began their married life.

Senator and Mrs. Harding have no children.

WHAT CAN WE OR CAN'T WE AFFORD FOR OUR THANKSGIVING DINNER.

Starting with the most important item on the Thanksgiving bill of fare, and one which almost is synonymous with the name of the day, turkey—it was found the price of that kind of table birds, on an average, is five cents higher a pound than it was last year. Good turkeys will likely sell at from fifty-five to sixty-five cents a pound.

The future of the price, dealers said, was uncertain right now, since there was no way of accurately forecasting the holiday demand. It was unlikely, they added, that if the demand was near normal, the price would become lower. Present indications were, they said, there would not be a greater supply than last year.

Dealers said raisers of the turkeys still were in a position to demand what they thought they should get. They said raisers justified their prices by pointing to the cost of feed and to the abnormally high wages of their laborers. The same condition is asserted with regard to the raisers of chickens, which although plentiful, are bringing from fifty to sixty cents a pound.

Getting to the ingredients of those dishes which are allied with king turkey in his attack in the digestive organs, the most discouraging story was found in the case of the indispensable egg, especially indispensable in the making of good pumpkin pie. Eggs are not only higher than they ever have been, but dealers say they surely will go higher, asserting that the country is confronted with the worst shortage, at least of fresh eggs, in its history.

Prices, in a great many instances, are showing a distinct downward trend; but a general survey of articles necessary to decorate properly a Thanksgiving dinner reveals somewhat of a strain on the battle-scarred pocketbook still will be necessary to celebrate the last Thursday of November in the old-fashioned manner.

The only food dealers whose prices show a real falling off from those which obtained at the corresponding period last year are of fruit and vegetables. Even their reductions, while comparatively substantial, are not of such proportions as would bring a smile of content to the face of the harassed consumer. And they hardly would cause him to exclaim with glee that "The good old days are back again."

In regard to pumpkin pie, however, its lovers may be cheered by the knowledge that the prices of pumpkins themselves are somewhat reminiscent of the figures which reigned before the high price days.

RIPPLING RHYMES

TIME PASSES.

Full soon the blizzard will be popping, and hanging snow wreaths on our brows, and we'll be asked to do our shopping as early as the law allows. It seems no time since bells were ringing proclaiming Christmas peace once more, that happy time when Dad was bringing a ton of jimmies from the store. It seems no time since old Kris Kringle propelled his flivver through the night; the echo of his sleighbells' jingle seems all around me as I write. And now we're facing Winter burly, and soon each sheet at which I glance will say, "Please do your shopping early, and give the weary clerks a chance." No doubt the children think the seasons have much like snails or turtles raced; but we old lads have sundry reasons for cursing Time's indecent haste. A summer's gone before we know it, an autumn smiles and then it's through, and e'en a highly moral poet is moved to language warm and blue. The sexton to his rope is clinging, to ring in Christmas joy and cheer; and soon the old boy will be ringing some other bells—and we won't hear. The sky is gray, the wind is surly, more desolate the landscape grows; oh, let us do our shopping early, and give the sway-backed clerks repose.

PEACE PROTOCOL IN BASEBALL CAMPS EXPECTED FRIDAY

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The high moguls of baseball—the men whose money pays this or organized ball will park their hoofs under the peace table here today and before night a protocol that will make permanent the present armistice will, it is expected, have officially ended the brief but tempestuous baseball war.

Magistrates of high and low degree began drifting into Chicago early today for the first session of the momentous convocation which is scheduled to get under way at the Congress Hotel at noon. This first meeting will be for major league magnates only. After they have settled their squabbles the minor league club owners will be called in and a new plan to govern the entire fabric of national pastime will be evolved.

The meeting today will be for baseball men only. Lawyers, secretaries and league president's stenographers and all other individuals except those whose money is invested, will be barred. The magnates will fight their own battle and reach their own agreement without the advice of those whose interests are less vital.

The session is to be strictly informal and no record will be kept of the proceedings. It has been made exceedingly plain, however, that the minor leagues will not come into the discussion until the major leagues have ironed out their difficulties. When the big league magnates have patched up their quarrels and are ready to come to the smaller league club owners with a plan that has been mutually agreed upon, the "little fellows" will come into the meeting and tell the "big fellows" what they think of the scheme.

PRELIMINARY GAME BOOKED FOR SUNDAY

St. Brigid's Meteors, the parish football team will furnish a preliminary game to the Maroon-Milford match at Reserve Park Sunday, with the Dayton Saxons.

The Meteors defeated the Saxons earlier in the season 7-0, in a hard-fought and interesting game. Both clubs are evenly matched, and after the defeat of the locals last Sunday at the hands of a much older and heavier team, and the contemporary win of the Saxons over Miamiburg, the latter outfit feels that it can even matters with the locals in the game next Sunday.

The game should be an interesting preliminary to the Maroon-Milford set-to, which is figured by the fans to be one of the biggest games of the season. There is much interest in the return to the sport of "Atlas" Smith, the huge backfield man, who last year performed at fullback for the locals and in the game Sunday will be seen at a half position. Other old stays have returned to the club in the last two weeks, and when the Maroons trot out on the checkerboard after their two weeks lay-off, bugs are going to be treated to a surprise.

Next Sunday the Meteors will play the Springfield Orioles at Springfield.

NAVY IS NOT KEPT UP
St. Louis, Nov. 12.—War between the U. S. and Japan is almost certain unless this nation builds and maintains a navy in the Pacific "unsurpassed by none," Congressman L. C. Dyer declared in an Armistice day address here.

OHIO UNIVERSITY LOSES TO HEIDELBERG

Tiffin, O., Nov. 12.—After having been outplayed in the first half Heidelberg carried the fight into enemy territory and won from Ohio university in the armistice day game here 7 to 0. Harding carried the ball over in the third quarter and on the last down, after Ohio had held for three downs with the ball two feet from goal, Heidelberg won the game on end runs and forward passes. Five thousand attended.

BIG CELEBRATION HELD IN YELLOW SPRINGS THURSDAY

Armistice Day was fittingly celebrated in Yellow Springs Thursday afternoon and evening, when Edgar Van Kirk Post of the American Legion, arranged an immense parade, entertainment, oyster supper, soldier's fair and dance, that was well patronized to the financial benefit of the Post.

The activities began with a parade in the afternoon in which 500 people took part. The parade was led by a drum corps, followed by the colors, and the G. A. R. veterans in automobiles. All ex-service men, soldiers, sailors and marines followed in uniform, many being present from other towns in the county. Women of the Red Cross Chapter at Yellow Springs were next in line, followed by the high school students and Antioch College as a unit.

After a parade of the village streets, the parade ended at the opera house where there was a program of music followed by an Armistice Day address by Captain C. L. Darlington of this city. The speaker gave a history of the war and an explanation of the real meaning of Armistice Day. He referred to the Centralia episode and spoke of the work being done by the American Legion to stamp out these radicals, reciting the preamble to the constitution of the Legion.

In the evening an oyster supper was served in the basement of the Methodist Church, many citizens patronizing the affair, which went for the benefit of the American Legion. The soldier's fair was held on the first floor of the opera house, which was decorated in red, white and blue. Through the generosity of Yellow Springs, merchants and citizens including patriotic women, the Legion was able to sell and raffle many prizes, including cakes, and pie the fair closing shortly after nine o'clock with everything disposed of. About $200 was cleared for the benefit of the Legion Post. Following the fair, the Hamilton orchestra furnished music for dancing until 11 o'clock.

CONGRESSMAN FESS RETURNS FROM EAST

Congressman S. D. Fess of this Seventh District, arrived at his home in Yellow Springs, late Thursday night, after being in the East for some time.

Congressman Fess was in Massachusetts where he spoke twice, and he also delivered an address at Atlantic City. After spending two days at Washington, D. C., he came west to Lancaster, Pa., where he also spoke. The congressman expects to leave next week for another speaking tour in Pennsylvania expecting to address teachers institutes.

JUBILEE AT SPRING VALLEY DRAWS BIG CROWD THURSDAY

Over 2,000 people from all over Greene County participated in the big Republican jubilee and barbecue, given by Spring Valley Township in Spring Valley village, Thursday night.

The little town opened up to one of the biggest affairs of its kind held there for years, the air being filled with noise while noisy celebrators of the great political victory paraded the streets of the village carrying red lights.

The evening's festivities began with the first call to supper at five o'clock, and during the evening more than 2,000 people were served roast beef and pork at the enormous ox and pig roast arranged for by the committee. Sandwiches and coffee were served to the immense crowd of merry-makers in an orderly procession until after nine o'clock. At 7:30 o'clock participants in the celebration formed an immense parade, headed by F. M. Hiatt, dressed as Uncle Sam. The paraders carried ried red light torches and shouted Republican songs on their march about the town. The Chamber of Commerce Band of this city furnished music for the parade and the general celebration. It is estimated that between 1200 and 1500 people were in the line of march while hundreds watched the parade from the sidewalks.

The parade wound up with a meeting and Republican rally at the town hall, over which William Crites, presided as chairman. Mr. Crites introduced Captain C. L. Darlington, the speaker of the evening, who called to mind the Armistice Day side of the affair with allusions to the great war victory while he also spoke of the Republican victory at the recent election.

R. L. Gowdy, of this city, Common Pleas Judge-elect was also called upon by the chairman, and spoke a few words to the immense crowd. After the speaking the guests were invited to have more sandwiches and coffee. It is said that 750 pounds of roast beef were distributed.

HARDING TO BE SPEAKER
New Orleans, La., November 11.—President-elect Warren G. Harding will be the guest of the New Orleans Association of Commerce at a luncheon, November 18, a few hours before he sails for Panama. It was announced. Interest is attached to the visit here because the Republican party polled more than half the number of votes won by the Democratic candidates in New Orleans, a condition unheard of since reconstruction days.

PAIR OF ORDERS FOR POWDER SHOW ITS REAL VALUE

"The Only Thing I've Found That Gives Real Relief," Says One Customer.

A great deal of Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powder is ordered by mail because it is not always to be had in the user's particular drug store. Once a customer, frequently a customer, is the way it goes, and with each order praise is given, as for instance:

"Enclosed you will find $1.00 for another package of your Digestive and Liver Powder. I have used the one package and feel that I need more of it. I am greatly troubled with gastritis and it (Dr. Jackson's Powder) is the only thing I have found that gives me any relief!" MARY R. DENISON, Moatsville, W. Va., Route 1.

And here's another: "Enclosed find money order for one box of Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powder. This is the third box and we find it great. You may recommend it through us"—MR. AND MRS. ED BROWN, Martins Ferry, Ohio.

HOME BREW BROUGHT UNDER BAN OF DRY CHIEFS; HALT SALE OF MALT AND HOPS

Washington, Nov. 12.—Home brewing was brought actively under the prohibition ban when it was learned that enforcement officials had ruled against the sale of hops and malt to others than bakers and confectioners. Great secrecy surrounded the prohibition bureau's action.

The only admission made by prohibition officials in the absence of Commissioner Kramer was that the Volstead act had been constructed to mean that the sale of hops and malt as component parts of home-made beer were without the pale of the law and their sale must stop.

The construction of the law which resulted in the new orders was made nearly two months ago. At that time officials having it in charge started a document through the regular procedure, from which it emerges as a treasury decision. But it has not yet been approved by Secretary Houston. Licensing Plan Denied.

Emphatic denial was made to the report that the bureau had considered or had included in the order articles used in home brewing. Officials likewise denied that provision was to be made for the licensing of even the bakers and confectioners, apparently the only persons who will be able to purchase any malt.

There were persistent rumors at both the prohibition and internal revenue headquarters that scores of complaints had come from the manufacturers of cereal beverages, containing less than one-half of 1 percent of alcohol against the tremendous growth of brewing as a home industry.

It is understood that the beverage manufacturers' complaint had based on a steady but rapid decrease in their sales which they charged to the growth of home brewing.

Approximate, Old-fashioned Beer. They are understood to have protested to the internal revenue bureau that enforcement agents were enforcing the alcoholic restrictions on them while the home brewer, with the aid of hops and malt has been able to produce a beverage approximating old-fashioned beer.

Officials expect that the ban on malt and hops sales will bring a wave of litigation as to the government's rights. They claim, however, that decision preceded by a thorough study of the question involved and say they are prepared to meet the attack. Sections of the act specifically prohibiting the sale of integral parts of beer as well as the formal advertising of receipts for its manufacture were cited as one of the foundations for the ruling. The point which they expect to be tested in court was whether the food value of the two articles banned would in the eyes of a court, permit their continued sale as such despite their use as a basis for beverage making.

In line of demarcation between the use of the two articles which cannot be sold and fruits, sugars and syrups were said to be regarded as rather indefinite, but those having the question in charge believed they were on safe ground.

FIVE HUNDRED VOICES TAKE PART IN SING AT AKRON MEETING

Akron, Nov. 12.—Mrs. David Allen Campbell of New York directed the community sing at the armory here last night celebrating armistice day. More than 500 voices took part in the entertainment. The address of the evening was made by Dr. John Wesley Hill of New York who told of the influence of music upon the lives of men and women. Mrs. Edna Thomas of New Orleans was soloist.

Extension work was discussed by the delegates of the national federation of musical clubs at yesterday's sessions. Mrs. Frederick Abbott of Philadelphia told of her work of organizing music clubs and associating them with the federation. Mrs. Ella Smith of Columbus, Ohio, told of the success of state and district contests among the young people and the interest that these contests had created in musical training.

Music in education will be Friday's topic for discussion, led by Mrs. Oscar Bunday, of Birmingham. She advocates greater endeavor to have music included in the curriculum of the public schools.

AUTO STRUCK BY SWITCH ENGINE; MAN ESCAPES DEATH

O. J. Fuller, foreman of the C. F. Ball Candy Company of Springfield, escaped with cuts and bruises on the head when his automobile was struck by a switch engine on the Pearl street railroad crossing in Osborn at five o'clock Thursday evening.

Fuller was the only occupant of the machine when it was struck. Jack Ford, 15 of Osborn, who was hanging on the running board of the car jumping from the machine in time to save himself but not in time to warn the driver. Fuller was pinned beneath the car which was dragged 150 feet.

When taken from beneath the car he was taken to the office of Dr. Rice where the examination showed his injuries were not serious. Herbert Rankin, of Springfield, took the injured man to his home in that city Thursday night.

The switch engine which struck the machine is the property of a Pittsburgh contractor, and witnesses say there were no lights in view when it lacked over the crossing. The tracks have not been used for scheduled trains for years. Fuller claimed he did not see the train and said that he was not driving more than ten miles an hour, having just started his car a half block away.

WILMINGTON ENTERS THE CITY CLASS

Proof that Wilmington, with the recent census announcement, has stepped into the ranks of a city, is given with the fact that the Bureau of Vital Statistics at Wilmington has issued W. H. Rannells, clerk of the Wilmington Council, with a new number as city clerk.

The population of Wilmington is announced as 5,037 which places it in the city class, although no steps to make the change to a city has been made in Wilmington, according to the Wilmington News-Journal. Mr. Rannells' number as Village Clerk has been changed in the district registration to a much larger number, classified with the City Clerks.

ARMISTICE DAY USHERS IN DRIVE FOR LOCAL RED CROSS

Armistice Day, Thursday, November 11th, opened the Red Cross drive, being staged by the Red Cross Chapters over the country. The purpose of the immense drive is to arouse renewed interest in the vast service of "The Greatest Mother in the World."

The Red Cross is "carrying on" with equal vigor since the World War and for this reason the American Red Cross has found that it is necessary to urge the people of the United States to contribute to the financial help needed by the Red Cross.

One of the most active workers in the Fourth Roll Call is Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, of Fort Thomas, Ky., one of the World War's greatest heroes. Sergeant Woodfill was a member of the original cast of "The Red Cross of Peace," the pageant presented by the local chapter Thursday night. Through his splendid work in Red Cross interests, an appeal is being made by the Red Cross for the co-operation of the former soldiers in the country, in soliciting memberships for the Red Cross.

Sergeant Woodfill has traveled extensively throughout the United States working with the Red Cross in the Fourth Roll Call, and his distinction has made great results in gaining memberships in the Roll Call. A house-to-house canvass will be made by the local chapter in securing memberships and the citizens that are not called upon, and who desire to subscribe to the Red Cross, are requested to call at the Red Cross Headquarters at room 17 in the Court House, and they may secure their membership.

3. Enabled us to loan a considerable sum that has gone to make home ownership possible.

Don't Gamble With Friction

METAL against metal creates friction, and heat results—unless there is an enduring, resistant film of oil between the surfaces.

Users of HYVIS are awake to the dangers of poor lubrication. They insist on HYVIS because they believe in "playing square" with their motor.

Read what an enthusiastic HYVIS user says. He uses HYVIS Motor Oil in his Big Buick.

"I have given this oil as thorough a test as possible and find it highly satisfactory for Buick cars.

"In 864 miles it was necessary to add only two quarts of oil, and when the crank case was drained the oil was not thin or black.

"When I tore down the motor I found it in perfect condition showing no sign of improper lubrication and no effects of carbon."

The safe procedure is to stick to one long-lived heat-resisting oil like HYVIS and never adulterate it with inferior compounds. A motor fed with HYVIS and cleaned every 500 to 1000 miles will never depreciate rapidly from internal wear. Don't gamble with friction—use HYVIS.

Wherever there's a garage with a red, black and yellow sign with Little O-I-L Man at the top, there's a HYVIS Service Station.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bites, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It never fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

CEDARVILLE

A Ter Centenary program was rendered by the Research Club of Cedarville which met at the home of Mrs. Busler Thursday, Nov. 14. The program opened with a paper by Mrs. Spencer on "The Coming of The Pilgrims" in which she gave some of the experiences as recorded by these staunch and sturdy people. Little is known concerning their voyage but it is worthy of note of all the hardships endured, not one of them returned to their native land.

A vocal solo was given by Mrs. John Johnson, and a short play followed. "The Courtship of Miles Standish" by Mrs. Leroy Allen. Mrs. L. L. Parker, Mrs. Henry Bailey, Mrs. Ethel Barnett which was very well rendered.

An excellent social hour followed during the time refreshments were served. All of the members were present and a number of invited guests.

Mrs. Busler was assisted in her hospitalities by her mother in law efficient services of R. O. Copsey and sister, Mrs. Busler and Mrs. Rosa of South Charleston.

Fordson

TRADE MARK

Farm Tractor

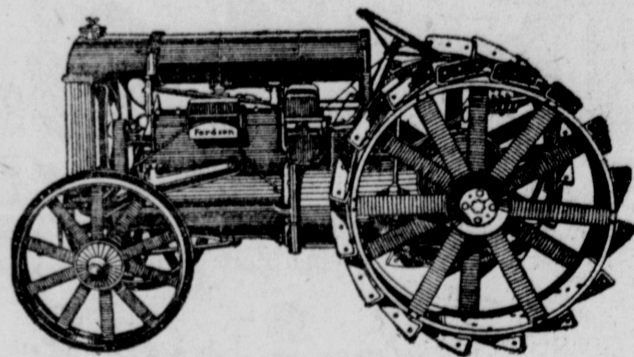

When Henry Ford set about building the Fordson tractor, he had a thorough understanding of just what it should be and what it should do. His early life on the farm gave him a deep insight into the daily life of the farmer; his mechanical genius saw the type of tractor needed. And for more than twelve years he experimented over more than 7,000 acres of land in different kinds of soil, with different crops.

So he built the Fordson. It is so simple that a school boy can operate it. It is low in first cost. It is lowest in operating cost and Fordson parts and Fordson service are always to be had promptly from the dealer.

The Fordson is a profitable investment. It can be used every working day in the year. It is an inexpensive power plant and it will lighten your work.

Don't delay ordering your Fordson tractor. The demand is greater than the supply.

has just culled a crop of 625 bushels of corn from a six acre tract put out in that grain. The crop for a tract of that size is considered unusually good, as about 300 bushels for the same sized patch of corn, would be a fair average for corn.

According to the figures furnished by the corn grower, the crop averages 104 bushels to the acre. Authorities say that 50 bushels is a good crop, although they some times run as high as 60 or 75 bushels to the acre.

"The Woman He Married"

BY JANE PHELPS

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED
Some New Friends.
Chapter 11.

Dick's salary had not only been raised but he had been given a little more responsible position with the firm. This seemed to please him really more than the money, badly as we needed it.

"I stand in line for further promotion if I make good," he said, his eyes shining at the thought. "And I will make good. I have to now, don't I, young man?" he addressed the baby. He was very proud of his boy, and constantly planning what we would do for him in the way of education, etc. As this all meant saving, it rather annoyed me—not that I didn't intend my boy shouldn't have everything. I did; but he was only a few weeks old and I thought we had plenty of time to plan for him.

"I think they might have given you more. Jim Watson earns $225 a month, and you are worth more than he is."

"No dear, I know I am not worth any more than the firm is giving me. I expected not more than $25 raise. I don't think I would have had any more had it not been for the kid. And dear, maybe they haven't the same idea of my ability that you have."

"But you are worth as much as Jim," I insisted.

"Perhaps. Jim gets more than he is worth, then."

"Nonsense! And Dick, they have such lovely things, the dearest dining room furniture, and everything so attractive. I do wish we could have such nice things."

"We will some day, so cheer up, little woman. We've got a boy. Isn't he worth more than dining room furniture?"

"Of course he is, the precious!" I hugged him so closely, he whimpered. "But I don't see why we can't have both. What's a baby got to do with having furniture and a nice flat?"

"I'm afraid a whole lot. He's already been a pretty expensive proposition for us, haven't you kiddlets?" Dick had such a funny way of asking the baby questions. It was really ridiculous.

I said no more. Dick never had mentioned that $200—to ask what I had bought with it. Long afterward he told me that he supposed I purchased necessary things for my illness of which he, a mere man, knew nothing, and so had not included them in his plans. I didn't want him to talk about it, to ask questions. I had paid the $175 I owed the tradesmen and taken Clara's brooch out of pawn, and it had taken every penny.

Dick had wanted me to have a little maid who could look after the baby, take him out on pleasant days, and relieve me of some of the work. But when we commenced to look about and found the enormous wages even incompetent house servants were getting, we knew it was out of the question.

So we made an arrangement with Mrs. Dooley, the woman who had charge of the apartment house, and who added to her income by washing and doing odd jobs for the tenants. She would stay with Junior in the evenings for 50 cents an hour, and also take care of him during the day if I had to go out. It seemed to be the best we could do, although I had dreams of a white-capped, white-aproned maid that would give a little tone to our establishment, humble as it was.

Mrs. Stowell was a large, rather florid woman but exquisitely dressed. I felt so countrified I could not act natural although she was very friendly. Mr. Stowell was a small, unobtrusive man with very gracious manners. I liked him at once. I liked her too, but felt rather afraid of her because of her magnificent clothes.

"Your husband used to visit us frequently. He must come now and bring you," she said cordially.

"Thank you," I murmured, while Dick made no reply at all, but turned to Mr. Stowell. Then their car drew up to the curb and they left us after asking our address, which I reluctantly gave.

"You don't think they will come way up there to see us do you?" I asked Dick.

"Why not? Won't take them 15 minutes in that high-powered car."

"Oh, I hope she won't come."

"Why?" Dick looked surprised.

"Didn't you like her?"

"Yes—I guess so—but think of her climbing all those stairs! It would be dreadful."

"Nonsense! I would do her good. She's too fat nowadays. If she had to climb a few stairs she might lose some of it."

I said no more, but I felt like praying she wouldn't come. Yet I also had an intense desire to know more of her.
